

Will County Goes Republican!

Will County went Republican in Tuesday's election at all levels, national, state and county.

There were more straight Republican votes cast than Democrat, but with George Wallace running as an independent candidate for the Presidency and some switch voting in county and district races, there were more splits cast than straights for either major party.

Richard Nixon carried the county big in the presidential race, 43,630 to 31,576 for Humphrey but Wallace polled about a sixth of the total vote, 12,595.

The Republicans elected the five county officials up this year, two men to the general assembly, and re-elected the two congressmen who represent the area, John Erlendson, 14th and Leslie Arends, 17th Districts.

Louis Bertani, who failed to gain the Republican nomination for state's attorney four years ago and so was spared the blitzkrieg staged by the Democrats in that election, charged back this year and defeated George E. Sangmeister, Mokena, who was up for re-election, 46,079 to 40,048.

Stanley Waznis, (D), who was seeking re-election as county auditor, was beaten by Berle Needham, (R) of Mokena. Needham polled 43,975 votes and Waznis, 39,851.

Sam Paul, supervisor from Troy Township, was elected circuit clerk, defeating William Smythe, of Lockport, 48,317 to 35,662.

Recorder Kenneth George (R) was re-elected. He defeated Stephen Luzbetak by a vote of 47,788 to 35,662.

Willard G. Blood, (R) was re-elected coroner over the Democrat, Dr. John Churchill. As usual in general elections Blood piled up a big vote, 49,046, to 36,337 for his opponent. Only U.S. Senator Dirksen had a higher total in the county. Dirksen had 50,276 votes while his Democrat opponent, William G. Clark, former attorney general, polled 34,491.

Dirksen was re-elected.

The local race that was not decided until all the returns had been tabulated was for the general assembly in the 41st District. Most of Will County, except for seven southwest townships, is in the 41st District.

Each of the major parties decided to run two candidates. Since but three can be elected to the house of representatives from a district in Illinois this spelled defeat for one of them. Three of the candidates were incumbents, William (Bill) Barr and Robert Blair, Republicans, and John Houlihan, Democrat. The other Democrat was former Circuit Clerk Sammy Berk, of Joliet.

For a time during the night Berk was going strong, even running ahead of Blair before some of the Republican precincts began reporting. Barr and Blair then pulled into safe leads, leaving Berk and Houlihan to battle it out. Berk was in the lead until late in the compilation of returns. When the computers completed their task it was found that Berk had lost to Houlihan by 41 1/2 votes. Houlihan's total was 55,415 1/2; the Berk vote was 55,374.

Barr led in the legislative race with a count of 66,384 1/2; Blair had 65,516 1/2.

Richard Ogilvie, (R), opposing Samuel Shapiro (D)

for governor, polled 47,690 votes in Will County; Shapiro received 38,319, an edge of 9,371.

In the race for lieutenant governor, Robert Dwyer (R) ran behind Ogilvie. Dwyer received 45,086, while the Democrat, Paul Simon, had 37,610, a difference of 7,476.

Don Carpentier, Republican candidate for secretary of state, carried Will County over Paul Powell, incumbent, 45,450 to 40,649, but Powell was reported re-elected in the state.

Will County voters gave William C. Harris (R), candidate for state auditor, 44,401 votes and Michael Howlett (D), incumbent, 37,398. Howlett reportedly won in the state.

William J. Scott (R) received 49,262 in his race for attorney general in the county; the vote for Francis Lorenz (D), was 34,811.

The proposal to authorize the county to sell $2,200,000 in bonds to build a new county nursing home, received approval by the voters, 34,635 to 28,772.

The state banking amendment also received approval of Will County voters, 34,635 to 25,296. The two billion dollar bond issue to combat air and water pollution also received approval in the county, 35,380 to 26,799.

The proposal calling of a constitutional convention in Illinois received a favorable vote in the county, 55,242 to 23,085, with the vote missing from the four Joliet precincts. Some 13,000 voters did not mark the ballot which means that they voted against it because to pass it had to have a majority of all votes cast. That was the story of the proposal in the state. Too many persons ignored the ballot so for the fourth time the voters of Illinois have turned down a proposal to re-write the state's constitution.

The total vote in Will County Tuesday was 91,666, which established a new record. There were 29,810 straight Republican ballots cast, and 20,491 straight Democrat ballots while the Socialist-Labor party had 318 straight ballots. The number of split ballots totaled 41,672.

The election judges from the 191 precincts in Will County had to count the Con-Con ballot and the ballot for retaining Michael Orenic as circuit judge, as they were on paper but the other contests were voted on on the Votomatic machines.

L-W Harriers Finish Third In State Meet

Lincoln-Way High School's cross country team brought honors to the area and SWS league when it finished third in the state meet at Champaign last weekend, in which some 240 runners representing 30 schools took part.

Joe Rodriguez, track and cross country coach -- his first year as head coach of the harriers -- was elated.

"Our boys were just great," he said, "and I am proud of each member of this squad. They worked real hard from start to finish. They came to me before the season started and said they were going to win this thing -- and they almost did."

Dave Merrick, sensational sophomore runner, finished eighth among the individuals. The winner among the individual runners was Ken Popejoy, of Glenbard West, who had a time of 13:26.3

over the 2.8 mile course. Moline's Duane Smith was second; Pete Reif, third; Jerry Couch, Ottawa, fourth and Willie Thomas, Englewood, fifth.

York of Elmhurst won team honors with 121 points and Evanston was second with 129 and Lincoln-Way third with 153. Glenbard West had 156 which put them in fourth place. Ottawa, fifth, with 182; Riverside-Brookfield, sixth, 194; New Trier East, seventh, 222; Arlington (defending champion) eighth with 232; Bellville West, ninth, 307 and Proviso West was in 10th place with 323 points. As in gold the low score wins.

Rich Loucks, of Lincoln-Way finished 15th among the individuals, Steve Mangun, 17th, Bill Been, 55th and Lee Erickson, 58. It is the way the individuals finish and the points they earn that make up the team total. Loucks and Mangun graduate next June; Been is a junior, Erickson a freshman.

"Merrick, Mangun and Loucks are real good runners," Rodriguez said, "and have been getting most of the headlines this season but Been and Erickson did tremendous jobs for us this year. These two boys showed a lot of guts in the state meet. They literally saved us in the meet."

The Lincoln-Way cross country runners ran all winter. They formed what they called the Polar Club and put in 500 miles of running. This year they plan to do 600 miles and are bringing their sights to bear on the state title in 1969.

They won the Southwest Suburban title and the district meet.

Second In Parliamentary Competition

The Lincoln-Way chapter of the Future Farmers of America entered a team that finished second in the parliamentary procedure contest held at Oswego.

However, Lincoln-Way's David Crowder was first in the chairman competition and Chris Schaeffer was first of the secretaries.

northeast of Mokena."

If the contracts are let this fall the work should be completed by early summer, it was said. There is a possibility, if the winter is an open one and the contractor wants to keep a crew employed, that the job could be finished earlier than next summer, some believe.

Completing this interchange, it is said, could be of material benefit to Orland Park, Mokena and Frankfort as the nearest interchange now for those communities is Tinley Park or New Lenox.

Vehicle Tags Go On Sale Dec. 1

Vehicle stickers will go on sale in Frankfort at the village hall on Dec. 1, it has been announced by Village Clerk Walter Pfaff.

The Villages of Mokena and Orland Park also will launch their sale of vehicle stickers on the same date. It is on Dec. 1 that early buyers of state license plates can put them on their cars.

Municipalities follow the state's lead in automobile license matters. They have the same beginning and the cities and villages have the same deadlines for stickers as the state does on license plates. Of late the state makes arrests if new plates are not displayed by Feb. 1.

Water Is A Major Topic Before Frankfort Board

Water service, from mains to meters, came in for some discussion Monday night at the regular meeting of the Frankfort Village Board.

Bids are being sought on a building to house the pump for the new well in Community Park, off Nebraska St., and for installation of mains to hook the new well into the water system.

Mayor Glenn Warning also reported to the board that he has a letter from the village engineer, Robert Hamilton, estimating that the cost of extending a 10-inch main from Nebraska St., on the west side of U.S. 45, to the S & S Sink Top Co., would be approximately $17,000.

At the previous meeting of the village board, Jerry Sager, of S & S, was present and indicated the firm was interested in getting village water and that he would like to discuss the matter in more detail when more information was available. Mayor Warning told the trustees that he would talk with Sager this week. Sager reportedly owns about a third of the acreage between the sink top plant and Nebraska St., on the west side of U.S. 45.

In earlier conversations Sager reportedly said he is interested in putting money into the proposed water service if arrangements are made for him to be reimbursed thru tap-ins by neighboring property owners or thru other means.

The village board would like to extend the water service to the south as a means of attracting more industry in that section.

The mayor also urged that the board give consideration to a proposal requiring that all new water meters be of the type that can be read from outside the house. There are attachments that can be used to convert present meters for that purpose.

There are residents, it was brought out at the board meeting, who refuse to allow a water meter reader to enter their homes. The solution for this, the board agreed, was to shut off the water at such residences.

Board members are interested, in outside readings. The gas and electric companies have their meters outside of homes on all new installation—and have followed this policy for several years. Many municipalities have followed this trend in the locating of meter dials so they are easily read from outside of houses.

Having the dials on the outside of homes assures that meters will be read regularly. Now when a person is not at home when the reader comes he must make out a card himself or if he fails to do that he may get an estimated bill until a reading is made.

The cost of converting a meter so it can be read from the outside, the mayor said, is $12. He has such a device on his residential meter.

At a meeting of the village zoning board of appeals last Thursday the request of Neil Britton for a classification change which would permit the operation of self service laundry on White St., next to the Eisenbrandt property.

Several objectors, represented by Attorney Norman Codo, of Joliet, appeared at the hearing. The zoning board denied the petition and the village board concurred in its recommendation that no change be made in the zoning.

A letter was read from the Connecticut Hills Homeowners Association. They object to the $25 deposit required by the village on the installation of a water meter but if such a deposit is considered necessary by the village then the homeowners group would have the village pay interest on the money and put a time limit on how long the deposit shall be retained.

The village, according to Village Clerk Walter Pfaff who also is the village collector, has found that the deposit has enabled the village to collect bills that otherwise would have gone unpaid, as the persons involved had moved away without notice—wometimes at night. It takes the village three and a half months to shut-off a water user, Pfaff pointed out. The $25 covers a major part of the amount due, he said, if toward the end of the three and a half month period the people move away. The village board is to study the situation and then give the Connecticut Hills residents an answer. People now get their deposits back when they move away, unless they owe the village for water. Then they get back the difference, if any.

Mayor Warning hopes to get a truck route established that will keep the heavy vehicles from going thru town. Laraway Rd. has been completed and with it and U.S. 45 to carry the brunt of heavy loads the mayor hopes to save some of the village streets.

Frankfort is prepared to join in a move to establish a council made up of municipalities in Will County to present concerted action when needed in coping with problems. A discussion of the proposal is to be had Nov. 21 in the form of a dinner meeting at D'Amico's 214, in Joliet. Steve Sargent, of the Illinois municipal league is to be the speaker.

WHERE LESTER GAY, of Frankfort, was killed in an explosion Oct. 29. This tar storage tank exploded while he was at the top of it. The tank was at the rear of the Frankfort Township Highway garage, Mokena. Mokena firemen had just extinguished the resultant fire when this picture was made.

Education Week Draws Parents To Schools

"America has a good thing going . . . it's schools" is the theme of American Education Week, Nov. 10 thru Nov. 16. In conjunction with this, the Orland Schools will begin the week with teacher-parent conferences on Tuesday, Nov. 12 from 1:00 to 4:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m.

The conferences, which are held each November, are designed to familiarize parents with their children's academic progress and social adjustment. At the same time teachers and parents review the results of the most recent achievement tests and discuss the first quarter report card grades. Because of the limited amount of time available, teachers will not invite the parents of every child to have a conference. If, however, a parent who has not been scheduled for a conference wishes to initiate one it is necessary only to notify the teacher with whom she wishes to confer. For further information regarding conferences, parents should call the respective schools; Orland Park - 349-0051, Orland Center and Maue - 349-0053 and Orland Junior Hi. - 349-0440.

In addition to the conferences, each school has arranged special programs or set aside certain blocks of time for visitation and open house.

Orland Center School: Parents and interested parties were invited to visit the Orland Center on Wednesday, Nov. 13 during the hours of 9:15 to 11:00 a.m. and from 1:00 to 2:30 p.m. There will be a meeting for parents of 1st and 2nd grade I.T.A. classes on Thursday, Nov. 14. Parents will be notified as to time and room location.

Junior High: Thursday, Nov. 14 is parents visiting day at the Orland Junior High School. Parents are invited to visit during the hours of 9:15 to 12:15 and 1:00 to 2:45 p.m. Classes and teachers will welcome anyone who wishes to visit the rooms during these times and view the work being done.

Orland Park School: Friday, Nov. 15 will be visiting day at the Orland Park School. Parents are invited to visit during the hours of 9:15 to 11:00 a.m. and from 1:00 to 2:45 p.m. Miss Ginder's 3rd grade class will present a "Study of the History of American Education" in conjunction with American Education week. All students in the Orland Park Building will be commemorating Veteran's Day during this same week.

Orland School District No. 135 wishes to extend an invitation to all parents and interested members of the community to visit their schools during American Education Week.

Crushes Knights In Grid Final

Lincoln-Way High School, which has never been strong in football, had a disastrous season which it wound up last Saturday with a 71 to 13 beating by Reavis.

The Knights, however, can take comfort in knowing that they were just one of six other members of the Southwest Suburban Conference to be walloped by the Rams of Reavis.

Reavis lost but one game this year -- to Sandburg of Orland Park, which hasn't been beaten in a couple of years. The Eagles of Sandburg are again the winners of the SWS grid championship. Such a title is anything but new to the Eagles. When it comes to football the Eagles are either champions or runner-up. That Joe Devine, who coaches the Eagles has done a wonderful job as such. The Eagles wound up their season last Friday night by clobbering Oak Lawn, 62 to 0.

Altho the Knights failed to win any contest this year except the first game when it beat Tinley Park, the statistics don't really tell the story. The kids were in there playing their hearts out and while their opponents came out on top they all knew they had been in a football game.

In the curtain dropper last Saturday, played at the Lincoln-Way field, the Reavis crew ran up 497 yards to the Knights 211, all of which was gained on the ground. At that level the two teams weren't so far apart, the winners making 58 more yards than the losers. It was in the air that Reavis made the difference. The Rams netted 228 yards by passing to zero for the Knights.

Lack of a passing combination has held Lincoln-Way back all season. The Knights have shown they can grind out the yards on the ground but that is the hard way these days.

With all of its yardage Reavis had only five more first downs than Lincoln-Way, 15 to 10, but on the score board it was a disastrous day for the Lincoln-Ways. Reavis made 21 points in the first quarter and 20 in the second to lead 41 to 0 at the half.

In the third frame Reavis added 14 more points while Lincoln-Way made seven on a 70 yard march in nine plays, with Halfback Harold Webb shaking loose for the last 24 yards and then ran the extra point.

The Knights scored again in the fourth quarter.

Hold Funeral For Explosion Victim

Funeral services for Lester S. Gay, 63, of 216 Walnut St., Frankfort, were conducted last Friday, Nov. 1, from St. Peter's United Church of Christ. He was killed Oct. 29 when a tar tank, owned by Frankfort Township, exploded. He was on a ladder at the top of the tank when the explosion took place. The force threw him into a flower bed, about 20 feet away. According to Coroner Willard G. Blood, Mr. Gay suffered a broken neck and other injuries and was instantly killed.

The accident took place in the lot back of the garage owned by Walter Yunker, township highway commissioner. Mr. Gay had finished pumping 1,100 gallons of road tar into a truck used in spreading it on roads, and then climbed to the top of the storage tank. The explosion was inside the tank. The fumes are blamed but what set them off has not been determined. No date has been set for the inquest.

The body was taken to the Frankfort Community Chapel and from there to the church at noon on Friday to lie in state until time for the services at 2 o'clock.

Because of the illness of the Rev. LaVern Smith, pastor of St. Peter's, the Rev. Alfred Klumb, pastor of St. Paul's United Church of Christ in Monee, officiated. Interment was in Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Frankfort.

Mr. Gay was born at Juneau, Wis., July 10, 1905, and came to Frankfort Township about 44 years ago.

Besides his wife, the former Erma Schroeder, Mr. Gay is survived by a son, Udell, of Roselle; a sister, Miss Alice, and two brothers, George and Arthur, of Minnesota.

Relief For TV Viewers In Sight

Television viewers at Frankfort received welcome news this week. Sheriff Martin Jackson wrote Village Attorney August Santoro in response to a letter from the village board, that as soon as the Will County board of supervisors made the money available the county radio transmitting equipment now located on the water tower at Frankfort will be moved.

For months the village board has been getting complaints from TV viewers that they have been contending against considerable interference. The interference was traced to the county's radio equipment, it was said.

The Civil Defense also has some radio equipment at Frankfort but whether it is still alive or dead no one appears to know.

The county equipment, on which police calls are made by the sheriff's force, will be moved to Plainfield and Wilton Center.

Education Week Is Nov. 10-15

Various activities are planned in the Frankfort schools in observance of American Education Week, Nov. 10-15.

Actually the first school day, Nov. 11, is a holiday. Originally known as Armistice Day because Nov. 11, 1918, marked the cessation of hostilities between Germany and the Allied armies in World War I, it is now called Veterans Day and designated as a holiday by Congress for federal institutions and installations, and the states have pretty much gone along with the idea.

In Illinois Nov. 11 is a holiday in the schools and in Frankfort Nov. 12 will be another day on which pupils are excused from classes.

At Frankfort Nov. 12 will be the day for teacher and parent conferences. Frankfort does not issue report cards for the first grading period. Instead the teachers meet with the parents and tell them what and how little Johnny or Mary are doing in their school work. In the past approximately 99 per cent of the parents have attended these conferences to get first hand information on their children's educational progress.

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 13, the PTA will hold its monthly meeting in

Women At St. Michael Meet Nov. 12

The church communities committee on ecumenism and human relations of the St. Michael Council of Catholic Women will present a panel program at 8 p.m. at the Nov. 12 meeting in the school auditorium, 14328 Highland Ave., Orland Park.

The Panel of American Women will present a discussion on prejudice. Women representing the Catholic, Jewish, Negro and white Protestant viewpoints will speak on how their race or religion affects their lives. There will be a question and answer period.

The Panel of American Women was begun 11 years ago by Mrs. Paul Brown, of Kansas City, Mo., as a program for a local church group. It was so successful that others became interested, it was said, and began their own panels until today there are more than 50 across the nation.

Frankfort School. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock and will be featured by a panel discussion concerning the school district.

Frankfort School will be the scene of basketball games Friday night, Nov. 15. The Frankfort teams will be host to Mokena, the first game starting at 6:30.

School officials also invite parents to visit school that week while classes are in session to better acquaint themselves with the scope of their child's learning environment and experiences.

Stopka Plans Annual Colorado Ski Jaunt

Spring vacation will begin April 5 and end April 13. Many students and adults will be taking trips this year. Most educators discourage unchaperoned tours and suggest that if you can not accompany your children on a spring vacation holiday and still want them to travel you might consider this trip. It has been noted for;

Faculty leadership, mode of transportation, reasonableness of cost and maximum of 15 students to one chaperone.

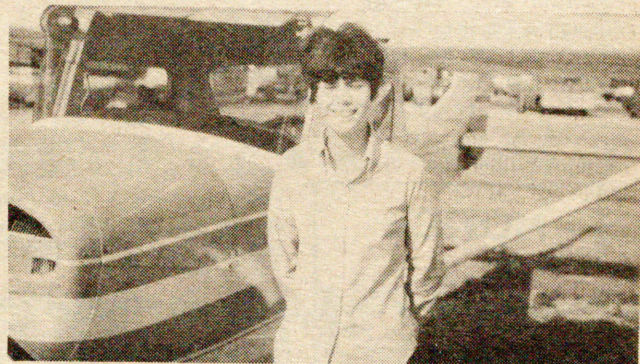

This spring Ronald Stopka director of athletics, at Lincoln-Way High School will conduct his third annual pilgrimage to the ski slopes of the Rocky Mountains near Denver, Colo. The group will stay at the lovely Idlewild Inn which is a few hundred yards from the lifts. The students will depart April 5, at 5:20 p.m., from Aurora on the Denver Zephyr and return April 13 at 9:10 a.m. Chaperones will always be in evidence on the slopes, at the base and during all activities. Adults are welcome on this trip. Cost of the trip will be $150. This includes the round trip transportation from the train station to the ski area; all lodging, tips and meals; student accident insurance and recreation and snacks in the evenings. Cost of tow tickets are not included in this special rate.

If interested in skiing with friends from Joliet schools, Lockport schools and Lincoln Way one may contact Ronald Stopka, at school, 485-2511, extension 45. After 6 p.m. one may call 469-5697. Reservations should be in as soon as possible, Stopka said, as they must be confirmed at the lodge and only so many spaces will be available.

M-MM! GOOD! was the vote given ice cream cones by Halloween paraders at New Lenox. The parade, sponsored by the New Lenox Association of Commerce, brought out some 500 youngsters. The costumes were judged at Oakview School. The paraders were given treats at the school and also on their way home if they stopped at the Illinois-Indiana General Equipment Sales rooms. Roy Fitzer, (left) who operates the business handed out cones to all the kids who stopped in. You eat better without masks, decided the kids in the top picture. Maid Marian - at least she's wearing Lincoln green - below has the advantage of having a mask that leaves her mouth free for eating.

ARNEZ BURGH, of 246 Oregon St., Frankfort, gave herself a special present the day following her 16th birthday - she took her first solo flight at Frankfort Airport. She is the youngest girl to solo there. Her mother, Mrs. Peter Burgh, was the first woman soloist there and Mr. Burgh also soloed and got his private flying license at Frankfort. Marvin Flowers was the instructor for all three.

New Clues to Lung Patients

Copyright 1968 World Book Science Service

Asthma and emphysema, each caused by different factors, are both diseases of the lung responsible for too many deaths. • Alarmed at their increasing incidence and the increase in chronic bronchitis, pulmonary hypertension and hyaline membrane disease, doctors are taking a fresh look at the complex structure of the lung.

"Spread out relatively flat, the average human lung is about the size of a tennis court, yet the network of blood vessels sustaining this vast organ has remained a comparative mystery to us," says Dr. Alfred P. Fishman of the University of Chicago.

"An understanding of pulmonary circulation is crucial to the treatment of lung disorders . . . Recent advances in electron microscopy and new physiological approaches to pulmonary circulation may lead to new treatments and pave the way to development of artificial lungs."

The presence of a protein-glucose coating on lung tissue had long been suspected. It had even been given the name surfactant. But until Dr. Ewald R. Weibel of the University of Bern, Switzerland, revealed it through the highest-powered electron microscope it had never been seen or isolated.

Dr. Weibel has been able to give a clear understanding of surfactant's nature with his remarkable photomicrographs. It is a thin fluid film only about a molecule thick, that coats the surface of all lung tissue.

His finding opens up several avenues of research which will probably demonstrate how important a role surfactant plays in lung disease.

Meanwhile, Dr. Solbert Permutt of Johns Hopkins University has discovered that a vast network of extremely small blood vessels in the lung are empty, and fill up only when needed. This explains the long-standing puzzle to doctors. How does blood circulating through the lungs increase in volume when the body demands it?

Dr. Permutt believes that tiny blood clots (emboli) may form in these vessels, blocking the free flow of blood and forcing fluid to leak into and accumulate in the air spaces. This sequence may be a major factor in many lung disorders.

FANTASTIC JOURNEY -- Ted Bond, a Texas physiologist, has taken remarkable moving pictures of blood flowing through living capillaries, the human circulatory system's tiniest vessels. It's a 60,000-mile trip.

EXERCISE HELPS -- Dr. Harry Bass of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston has put many helpless emphysema patients back on their feet by insisting that they pedal a bicycle up to 45 minutes a day.

CELL-SCANNER -- Electronic optical scanners that recognize checks in banks and read handwriting in post offices can now be programmed to scan slides of cells and recognize abnormalities that may lead to early detection of cancer.

MOUTH FLAP

The mouth of a beaver has flaps of skin which fold inward and meet behind the incisors, sealing off the back of the mouth and permitting the beaver to gnaw wood without swallowing splinters or water. The incisors never wear out because they keep growing throughout the beaver's life.

Animals Are Vanishing

Perhaps you've heard that some animals are disappearing from the Earth. But do you have any idea just how serious this problem is?

There are now more than 500 kinds of animals in danger of becoming extinct! Many of these have been over-hunted.

That is, men hunted these creatures for food, or skins, or just for sport.

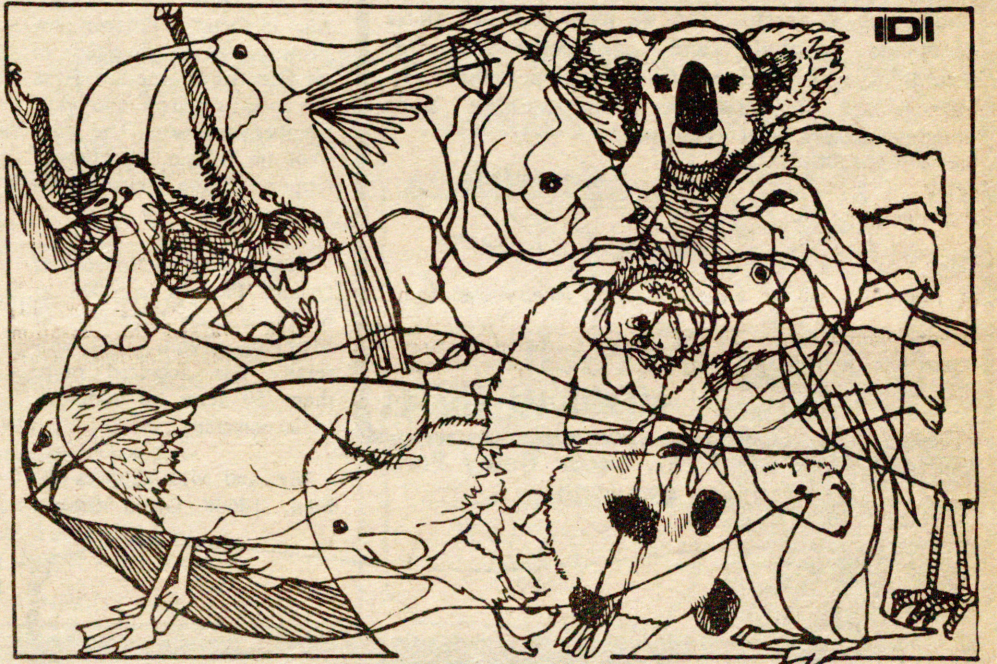

The problem is that no care was taken to be certain that there would be enough of the animals left to enable them to continue their species.

Over-hunting is not the only reason for the impending loss of many animals. Man has just not made any attempts to share the planet with them.

Our fences, pesticides, fertilizers, sewage, and the like have destroyed the animals. Sometimes we have upset the balance of nature so badly that we have indirectly eliminated particular animals.

There are very few blue whales left in the oceans.

The American bald eagle is nearly gone-the timber wolf, red wolf, black-tailed prairie dog, several kinds of bears and tigers, the Indian rhinoceros, 12 kinds of humming birds, nine kinds of woodpeckers, the orangutan, the Galapagos penguin, the koala bear of Australia . . . the list could go on and on.

What can be done? For some animals it is too late to do anything but learn from past mistakes. We must strive to control the killing of wildlife.

Scientists all over the world are already at work on programs to learn the best ways of preserving the animals that are left and assisting them in increasing their numbers.

Let's hope they have a lot of success!

Can you find the animals hiding in the picture? Hurry! All 13 of them are in danger of becoming extinct!

In case of fire it wouldn't be necessary to break down locked doors if you used this new door-opening device. Designed as a fireman's tool, it pushes the door jambs apart, allowing the latch to slip out of its catch so the door can be pushed open easily. Damage to door frames is negligible.

The device, invented by Stanford student and part-time fireman William A. Boller, is adjustable to doors of various sizes. It is light, portable and easily stored.

Dear friends,

It is pretty hard to define the term "public opinion", but we can assure you that it is what has built our funeral service.

Public opinion in this community demands a high type of service, and we have followed those demands carefully and conscientiously. Our facilities and equipment - each personal service - are the result of public opinion. Your suggestions are most welcome.

Respectfully,

Mokena Burros Award Banquet Will Be Held Sunday

Telephone 479-9321
Members of the Burros football teams will be feted Sunday afternoon at the fifth annual Awards Banquet. The affair will be held in the Sabre Room on 95th St., Hickory Hills, with serving to begin at 4 o'clock.
The Burros have three teams, all made up of kids of grade school age, that are set up according to weight. There are the heavyweights, the lightweights, and a group designated as the pee wees.
The heavyweights won the title of that division in the George Halas League and the lightweights were second in that division of the same league.
The teams were to have wound up their season the last week in October but on Wednesday night of last week Coach George Krueger took the heavies and the lights to Normal for special games in the "Goblin Bowl." The Mokena teams came home with the trophies, the heavies winning 33 to 13 and the lights 33 to 0. The Normal teams were the Mites.

Then last Sunday, a game that hadn't been considered, was played at Mokena. The Normal Tigers were all dressed up with no place to go and at the request of their coach the Burros accommodated them. The heavies tamed the Tigers, 20 to 13 and the Mokena lights blanked their visitors, 13 to 0.
The Pee Wees closed their season last Saturday with a loss at Addison. The Mokena team was beaten 19 to 7.

When One Stops Learning -- He Becomes A Drop Out

Once upon a time, not so long ago, a student went to school and learned enough to last a lifetime. But nowadays, anyone who stops learning at any age is a drop out.

So say the sponsors of American Education Week scheduled for observance by the Mokena Schools November 10-16. This is the annual visit-the-schools week in which more than 30 million parents participate.

Most teachers now-a-days, according to Supt. James Ennis, of the Mokena Public Schools, try to teach youngsters techniques for learning, rather than just facts, since the facts the student learns today may be obsolete 10 years from now.

Thousands of young adults have already realized this. Each year about 25 million of them go into adult education activities, mostly of a vocational or recreational nature.

By and large these adult students are already well educated. Statistics show that a college educated executive, housewife, or professional person with a family income of more than $7,000 a year is six times more likely to be in an adult education program than is a grade-school educated, blue-collar worker with an annual income of $4,000.

Statistics like these, said Supt. Ennis, show a need for schools to instill in those least likely to go to college a love of lifelong learning, as they are the ones who probably could profit most from formal adult courses in later years.

The theme of American Education Week this year is: "America Has A Good Thing Going -- Its Schools". Sponsored annually by the National Education Association, The American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U.S. Office of Education, AEW will emphasize each day of the week specific contributions the school makes to society:

Sunday, Nov. 10: "Stimulate Moral and Spiritual Values"; Monday, Nov. 11: "Strengthen the Nation"; Tuesday, Nov. 12: "Aspire to Quality Teaching"; Wednesday, Nov. 13: "Provide Equal Opportunity"; Thursday, Nov. 14: "Foster Lifelong Learning"; Friday, Nov. 15: "Promote Economic Prosperity"; and Saturday, Nov. 16: "Strive for Healthy Personality Development".

Gov. Shapiro, proclaimed that Illinois should observe AEW, and requested that the observance of this important occasion be carried out in a manner fitting and proper. He requested that all parents visit their children's schools and take an interest in the aims and goals of education in this state and nation.

Mokena will observe AEW in the following manner:

Monday, Nov. 11 - No school - Veterans Day
Tuesday, Nov. 12 - No school for pupils - Parent-Teacher conference day
Wednesday, Nov. 13 - Classroom visitation day; school board meeting - 7:30 P.M.
Thursday, Nov. 14 - Classroom visitation day
Friday, Nov. 15 - Classroom visitation day

The Book Fair normally held during American Education Week has been scheduled this year for the week of Nov. 25.

Summer Resident Of Homer Township Dies

Funeral rites for Edward Frohlich, 76, of 1908 Garfield Blvd., Chicago, who died Oct. 24, were conducted Oct. 26.

He was formerly the general agent of the Grand Trunk and Canadian National Railways and had retired a number of years ago.

His wife, Alene, three sons, Richard, Alfred and Victor, and two daughters, Miss Dolores and Mrs. Elaine Ford, survive.

The family owned about five acres along 167th St., Homer Township, where they had a summer home they had been coming to for the past 30 years. Mr. and Mrs. Ford, who now reside at La-Grange, at one time made their home in Mokena.
